

Composting in California

Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) and CalRecycle Brown Bag Lunch Presentation

Composting organic materials from the urban environment, like food, yard and lumber waste, reduces methane emissions from landfills and contributes to a healthier environment. Compost added to agricultural soils can be part of an integrated pest management strategy and reduce pesticide use.

SPEAKERS:
Brian Leahy - Director, DPR
Robert Horowitz - CalRecycle
Margaret Lloyd - UC Davis Gordon Lab

C.E. CREDIT (ONE HOUR) AVAILABLE
<http://www.facebook.com/CaPesticideRegulation>

Tuesday, Nov. 18, 2014, 11:45 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
CalEPA Training Rooms East and West, 1001 I Street, Sacramento

RSVP: pverke@cdpr.ca.gov (916) 445-4300