SUBJECT: REVISED PESTICIDE SAFETY INFORMATION SERIES LEAFLETS

The Department of Pesticide Regulation annually revises Pesticide Safety Information Series leaflets A-8, A-9 and N-8. The revised documents have been completed and are available via the department's website. They will be available from the Pesticide Enforcement Branch in December 2000.

This annual revision to these three documents update the actively registered pesticides on the Proposition 65 list. In addition, this year in response to criticisms received about the complexity of these training documents, we attempted to simplify the language. We also put some of the information the employer is required to fill out on the front page and referenced the need for the employer to fill in information later in the document.

We appreciate the time your staff put into reviewing these documents. Many changes were made in response to these reviews. We are always looking to improve these documents and make them useful as a training tool. To that end, we ask you to send any comments you might have, either generally or about specific documents, to us.

Please direct any comments or questions to Ms. Susan Edmiston at (916) 445-4278 or sedmiston@cdpr.ca.gov.
