California Notice 2020-10

TO: Pesticide Registrants and Other Stakeholders

SUBJECT: POSTPONEMENT OF THE 2020 PESTICIDE REGISTRATION WORKSHOP

In response to the novel coronavirus (COVID-19), the Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) has decided to postpone the 2020 Pesticide Registration Workshop until further notice. DPR will continue to monitor the current situation and will actively work towards holding the workshop in the 2021 calendar year if conditions permit.

As previously mentioned in California Notice 2018-19, the Pesticide Registration Workshop that was held in 2018 was recorded and posted on YouTube as a resource for stakeholders. The video series, which can be found at <https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PLgU4sA8HrUfpywXUSdznydhwgZjiMXahQ>, is separated into the following sections:

1. Department of Pesticide Regulation Overview
2. Pesticide Registration Branch Overview
3. Which Products Require Registration?
4. Where does Your Application Package Go?
5. Applying for Pesticide Product Registration
6. Data Requirements
7. Helpful Tips Before You Submit
8. Changes After Product Registration
9. Revisions to Products and Maintaining Product Registration
10. Wrap-Up, Review

It is important to note that the video series includes some outdated California Notices that have since been superseded. For the most current information, please refer to DPR's California Notices to Stakeholders Web page at <https://www.cdpr.ca.gov/docs/registration/canot/camenu.htm>.

If you have questions, please email PRBWorkshop@cdpr.ca.gov or contact Mr. Russell Darling at Russell.Darling@cdpr.ca.gov or by telephone at 916-324-3547.
