

AMN Expansion - County Specific Ranking Analysis

California Department of Pesticide Regulation

Air Program

April 27, 2026

Background

The California Department of Pesticide Regulation (DPR) plans to expand its statewide Air Monitoring Network (AMN). DPR initiated the AMN in the beginning of 2011 to monitor pesticides in the air as part of its continuous evaluation of pesticide risks and to help assess and improve protections for people and the environment.

The program currently collects and analyzes data in Merced, Ventura, Santa Barbara, Kern, and Monterey Counties. One site in Delhi (Merced County) has already been converted from limited pesticide sampling to a full monitoring station, and a similar site in Parlier will be relocated within Fresno County to provide expanded monitoring capabilities.

The 2024–25 State Budget provides permanent funding to DPR to expand ambient air monitoring to a total of ten stations. DPR used an updated, data-driven prioritization process to identify five counties – Tulare, Stanislaus, Imperial, Siskiyou, and San Joaquin – as leading candidates for four new AMN stations. More information about the AMN expansion is located on DPR's Air Program website.

This document provides additional information on the analysis of Tulare, Stanislaus, Imperial, Siskiyou, and San Joaquin counties.

The PC percentile rates sensitive population indicators as well as socio-economic factors. For more information, see OEHHA's CalEnviroScreen 4.0 webpage .
Number of Schools	The number of schools within 1 mile of the community.
Number of Top 50	The number of top 50 communities that are within 10 miles of the community.
